

BrandMeister Last Heard Option

Go to any BrandMeister page and select the Last Heard button on the left. The resulting display shows the vast number of activations that take place across the whole network. We need to filter these just a bit, so for the moment click on the pause icon before you get dizzy.

You will see on the far right hand side of the search bar a little “+”, which you click on.

This opens up a bar:

We are creating a rule, so click on +Add rule.

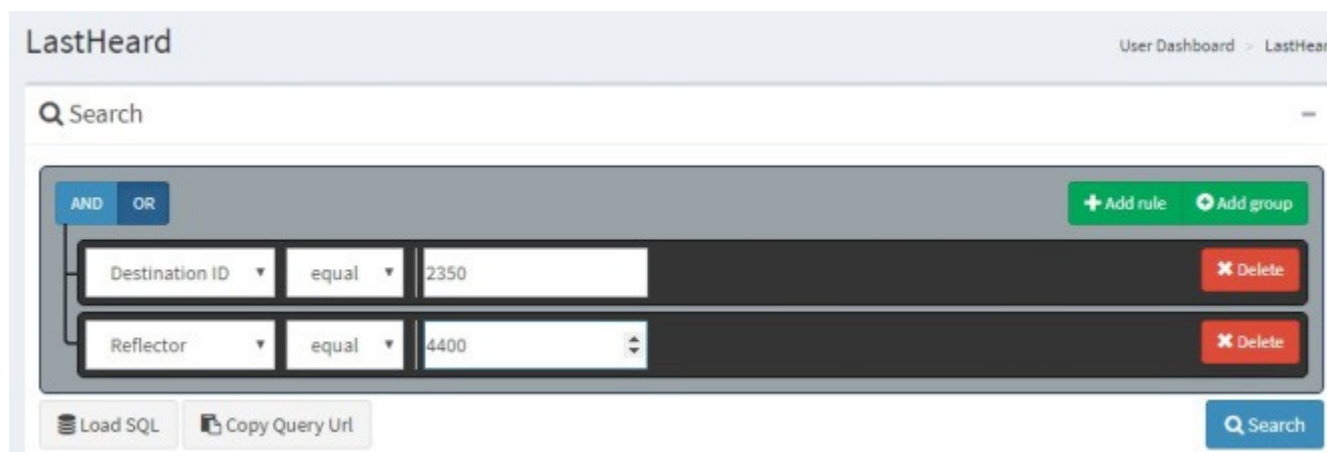

A new search parameter box opens where we can click on the drop-box arrow.

We will select Destination ID as we want to see what's going on on Talk Group 2350.

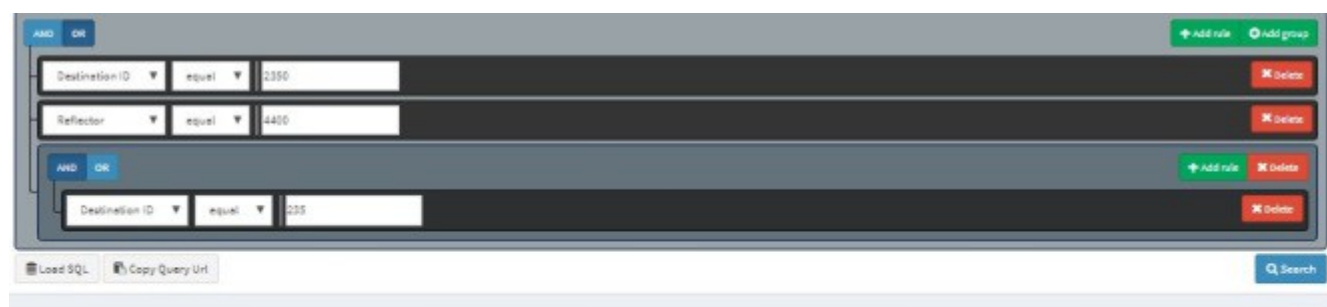

Now this is not all inclusive as some users are using TG9 on slot 2 to access 4400 Reflector. So we need to add some parameters. But we need to make the search an “OR” search as no one uses TG2350 AND Reflector 4400.

Now click on Search if the search has not already begun and you will see all activity relating to Talk Group 2350 whether or not it is direct or via the Reflector 4400. You should see around the last 40 minutes or so of activity.

Finally you can watch more than one talk group or reflector. This is me watching TG235 as well as the search above.

Time	Link name	My call	Talker Alias	Source	Destination	Reflector	Options	RSSI	dBm	Duration	Loss rate
14 Seconds	NMDVM Host	OTRPO [Peter] (2351232)		OTRPO (2351232)	Local or Reflector (9)	United Kingdom (4400)				0	0% (0/8)
25 Seconds	NMDVM Host	O4P2N [Barney (Chris)] (2343312)		O4P2N (2343312)	Local or Reflector (9)	United Kingdom (4400)				1	0% (0/11)
7 Minutes	NMDVM Host	M8POY [Mike] (2348388)		M8POY (2348388)	United Kingdom 4400 (2350)	(0)			-47	7	0% (0/127)
7 Minutes	NMDVM Host	O6NRJ [Derek] (2345990)		O6NRJ (2345990)	United Kingdom 4400 (2350)	(0)			-47	1	0% (0/20)
8 Minutes	NMDVM Host	M8POY [Mike] (2348388)		M8POY (2348388)	United Kingdom 4400 (2350)	(0)			-47	8	0% (0/146)

In this case the second search is a “Group Search” and is an “AND” as I want to display the results of both Groups. I could see all the activity pertinent to my search over the last 37 Minutes.

Have fun playing with your searches.
